BLOCK EXEMPTION 2010

Spare Parts of Matching Quality

European legislation - Block Exemption Regulation 461 / 2010 - came into force on 1st June 2010. This extends the freedom of motorists, first granted under the 2002 Block Exemption Regulation, to decide who repairs and services their vehicles without invalidating the vehicle manufacturer's warranty.

BRAKEWORLD hereby certify that the complete range of braking products supplied by Brakeworld, including FTE calipers and the filter programme marketed under the Sofima and Japanparts brands, are spare parts of matching quality as defined by the European Commission Regulation 461 / 2010.
